Andersen® 400 Series Windows (Standard)

- White or Optional clear Pine interior
- Screens & “Snap-In” Grills are standard
- Six exterior optional colors
- Energy efficient
- Dual-layer, compressible bulb weather-stripping seals out dust, wind and water

Tilt-Wash Double Hung

Double-hung windows have two sash in a single frame which slide up or down to provide ventilation. Because their sash remain flush with the wall while the window is open, they are a good choice for placement adjacent to patios, decks and walkways. Our best-selling double-hung window, the Andersen® 400 Series tilt-wash double-hung window is extremely energy efficient and gives you a wide array of decorative and performance options, including Stormwatch® protection.

Bow Window

Bow windows are window combinations that curve gradually and gracefully outside a home. These dramatic combinations can add space, volume and light to a room and add more personality to any home—inside and out. Andersen® 400 Series bow window units utilize all of the individual qualities of our casement windows.

Angle Bay

Bay windows are window combinations that project outward from a home. These dramatic combinations can add space, volume and light to a room and add more personality to any home—inside and out. Andersen® 400 Series tilt-wash double-hung bay windows are extremely energy efficient and give you a wide array of decorative and performance options.

Casement Windows

Casement windows are hinged on the side and open outward to the left or right, allowing you to catch breezes and direct the flow of fresh air into your home. Usually taller than they are wide, their entire sash opens to provide top-to-bottom ventilation. This also makes them a frequent choice for use as egress windows—ones that can be used as an emergency exit.

Andersen® 400 Series casement windows start with a design that is extremely energy efficient. Add to that a solid-wood sash covered inside and out by low maintenance Perma-Shield® cladding to protect against water damage. It’s easy to see why they have become our best-selling casement window of all time.

Awning Windows

Awning windows are hinged at the top and open outward. Usually wider than they are tall, their entire sash opens to provide full side-to-side ventilation, allowing them to catch breezes from any direction. They are often used above, below or alongside stationary windows to provide ventilation because, when open, their sash can function like a roof, providing a measure of shelter from light rain.
Andersen® 400 Series awning windows start with a design that is extremely energy efficient. Add to that a solid-wood sash covered inside and out by low maintenance Perma-Shield® cladding to protect against water damage. Then give them rich, natural pine interiors for windows that are as beautiful as they are functional and reliable.

Picture Windows

Andersen® 400 Series complementary picture windows are rectangular and stationary (non-opening) windows characterized by their dramatic sizes. They can be used to provide singular points of light and architectural accents, or combined to create a signature statement

Circle Top Windows

Andersen® 400 Series curved specialty windows are stationary (non-opening) windows characterized by their curved shapes. They can be used to provide singular points of light and delicate architectural accents, or combined to create a signature statement.

Oval Windows

Andersen® 400 Series circle and oval specialty windows are stationary (non-opening) windows characterized by their special shapes. They can be used to provide singular points of light and delicate architectural accents, to create a signature statement.

AFFW606 Curved Specialty Window

Andersen® 400 Series complementary curved specialty windows are stationary (non-opening) windows characterized by their curved shapes. They can be used to provide singular points of light and delicate architectural accents, or combined to create a signature statement.

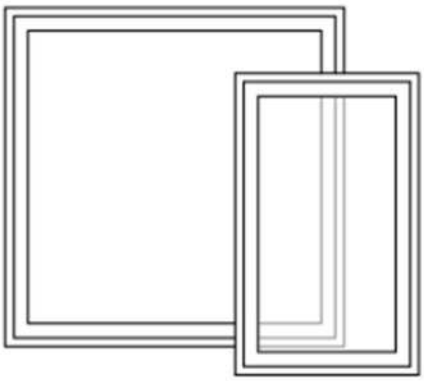
Double Hung Window

Double-hung windows have two sash in a single frame which slide up or down to provide ventilation. Because their sash remain flush with the wall while the window is open, they are a good choice for walls adjacent to patios, decks and walkways.
The Andersen® 200 Series tilt-wash double-hung windows feature low maintenance Perma-Shield® exteriors along with clear pine interiors to bring the warmth of natural wood into your home. Or, if you prefer, choose a factory-painted white interior with an ultra-smooth low maintenance finish. Either way, they come in our most popular sizes and give you our most requested options, along with our renowned Owner-2-Owner® warranty.



Picture Windows

Picture windows are stationary, non-opening windows that allow light into the room. Andersen® 200 Series picture windows come with low-maintenance exteriors and real wood or prefinished white interiors along with the security of our renowned Owner-2-Owner® warranty.
